

Dear Patricio,

Thank you for donating a contribution to the science festival. We had a great time. We got to play with the VR headsets, visit Cyberland, listened to an amazing talk about Everest.

In the VR section we got to look inside a human heart, we also had a look at the amount of technology the whole of brain uses. We also found out: how planes fly and the pressure created when we go under water.

Next we went to Cyberland, where we had to crack a code. To solve who was going to launch a cyber attack, we had to figure out emails, websites all by using codes.

Finally, we went to the Everest Lab, where we met Greg Foot (an explorer and scientist) who told us about Everest Base camp. He also explained how hard it is to breath as the air is so much thinner, he also said that it effects your blood.

Thank you for helping us get to the science festival.

Your sincerely, Cara-mae and the whole of year 6.
